Google Play   Developer update

Hi Developers at Mildtrix Business Solutions Pvt. Ltd.,

After a recent review, we've found an issue with your app, Feesclub (com.feesclub.erp.feesclubfee). See below for more information about your app's status and how to correct the issue.

⚠️ | ### Publishing status: Removed
Your app has been removed due to a policy violation. This app won't be available to users until you submit a compliant update.

🔧 | ### Issue: Missing or inaccurate target audience information
Your app will be removed from Google Play for one of the following reasons:

- You have not yet completed the Target audience and content section of the Play Console for your app; OR
- You completed the Target audience and content section but your app was previously rejected due to inaccurate target audience information.

About your target audience selection

Developers are required to provide accurate information about each of their app's target audience and content.

Next steps: Complete or resubmit the Target audience and content section

1. Sign in to your Play Console.
2. Select your app.
3. On the left menu, select Store presence > App Content.
4. Under Target audience and content > Start, please fill out each section accurately, and make sure to select the appropriate target age groups for your app.
5. Click Confirm.
6. Double check that your app is compliant with all other Developer Program Policies.

   - If your app was rejected due to inaccurate target audience information, be sure to resolve the issue before resubmitting (you would have received a separate email message with these details).
   - If one of the target age groups for your app includes children, your app must also comply with Families Policy Requirements.

Learn more about the Target audience and content section in the Play Console Help Center, or visit the Academy for App Success e-learning course to learn more about selecting your target audience and content settings.

Please help us improve the developer experience by completing this two question survey.
